P. H. S. ALUMNI TO HELP IN CELEBRATION

The Paris High School Alumni Association is making plans to assist the school to make a big day out of Saturday, October 28. On this date the High School football team will have as their opponent the St. Xavier School, of Louisville. This will undoubtedly prove to be the most attractive football game played in Central Kentucky this season. The Alumni Association is taking great interest in helping to make this the banner day in the football history of Paris. It is planned to have two trucks, one decorated in St. Xavier colors, another in the High School colors, and to have these two trucks bearing the respective teams to be at the head of a big parade over the business section of Paris, just preceding the game. Plans are being made to have this a home-coming day for the city of Paris. The city school students, faculty and Alumni Association join with the officials, the organization and the citizens of Paris in inviting all former Parisians to spend Saturday, October 28, in Paris. Every effort will be made to make this a pleasant day for you in your old home town.

BOXES FOR OVERSEAS

The Bourbon County Red Cross Chapter has received four hundred Christmas boxes to be filled for overseas shipment. This work is being undertaken through the co-operation of the Bourbon county schools. It is expected by the committee in charge of the packing that all the boxes will be ready for shipment before October 25, when they will be at the Bush Terminal in New York, ready for shipment abroad, chiefly to the sufferers in Armenia and the Far East.

Several boxes have not yet been distributed, according to the committee, who ask that anyone interested in aiding in the work should call at the office of the Red Cross Chapter and secure one.

CROQUET BALLS IN HEIFER'S STOMACH!

When Geo. B. Gilbert, president of the Beef Club, at Russellville, killed a two-year-old heifer he found in her stomach a croquet ball and two other wooden balls, slightly smaller. Her stomach was in a healthy condition.

RUM CARAVAN IN PITCHED BATTLE

As the result of a raid made on a party of alleged rum-runners near Perryville bridge, in Boyle county, Wednesday morning, four Paris boys have been implicated and were held in bonds of $300 each to appear before the Federal grand jury at the next term of the United States Court at Lexington. The four Paris men were Pete Linville, Edgar Crawford, Howard Fightmaster and Joe Cain. Linville was held at the Lexington jail with three other men, giving their names as Ernest Brady, Virgil R. Morton and Lawrence Howard, all of Covington.

Those released on bond were Edgar Crawford, Howard Fightmaster and Joe Cain, of Paris, and Johnnie Morris, of Lexington. Their bonds was fixed at a hearing held in the office of United States Commissioner Charles Wiard, in Lexington, Wednesday morning.

After a pitched battle at the bridge over the creek at Perryville, at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, prohibition officers captured eight alleged whisky runners, five automobiles, 410 gallons of red whisky, forty-five gallons of white whisky, two pump guns, two high-power rifles and a 45 caliber revolver. Two men in a car, believed to be comrades of the persons arrested, made their escape toward Lexington.

The trap was laid upon information that the company were Lexington men and had gone to Nelson county for whisky. A car was placed cross-wise to block the bridge and the posse lay in wait. When the procession of cars arrived and the drivers were forced to stop, the occupants opened fire, which was vigorously returned by the officers. About forty shots were exchanged before the alleged runners put up their hands. No one was wounded.

U. D. C. MEETING

The regular meeting of the Richard Hawes Chapter, U. D. C., will be held in the Confederate room in the court house, Saturday afternoon, October 21, at 2:30 o'clock. The principal business before the meeting will be election of officers and hearing of reports from the State convention of the U. D. C., at Louisville this week.

THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR

One of the most successful events held in Bourbon county in recent years was the Agricultural Fair given at the Bourbon County High School in Millersburg under the auspices of the Junior Agricultural Club of the school and kindred interests throughout the county. The event was fully treated in our Millersburg department, but owing to a pressure of advertising we could not give space to the premium list, which was quite lengthy.

Among the premiums offered at the fair were three given by THE BOURBON NEWS, as follows: Best peck sweet potatoes, premium, one year's subscription to THE NEWS, T. J. Cartmell; Best half-peck onions, premium one year's subscription to THE NEWS, R. L. Wilson; Best two Southdown ewes, any age, first premium, one year's subscription to THE NEWS, Reynolds Letton.

The first fair held last year was a success, but profiting by the omissions on that occasion, Professor J. W. Lancaster and his corps of able assistants saw that nothing was overlooked this year which would aid to the success of their undertaking.

To the older residents who held pleasant memories of the old Bourbon County Fair, which ran for a period of sixty-five years, the present fair was compared favorably. The show in the floral hall was equal to that of any county fair in the State. Women's work predominated, and long tables of delicious cakes, pies, bread and candies, some of them prepared by girls not yet out of their teens, showed the excellent work the fair is accomplishing.

The live stock exhibit comprised hogs, sheep, cattle, horses, mules, ponies. There were numerous exhibits of chickens, ducks, geese, turkeys and guineas, and two rings of hunting dogs, with several entries, attracted much attention. An old-fashioned hand cider press made and furnished to the thirsty a splendid article of sweet cider, sans "kick." The ladies of the Parent-Teachers' Association furnished for twenty-five cents a luncheon of burgo, sandwiches and coffee. The object of the association is "to stimulate an interest in improved agriculture and schools." Located in one of the richest agricultural sections in the world, it is the aim of Prof. Lancaster and his associates to improve rural conditions and to lead the boys and girls to a higher appreciation of their opportunities at home, and to fit them for a happy, useful, consecrated rural service.

The annual hog sale held Friday afternoon netted $114.50, which was turned over to the Parent-Teachers' Association to aid in its work.

PARIS CITY SCHOOLS' EVENING CLASSES

The program of the evening classes at the Paris City School will open Monday evening, November 6, at 7 o'clock. The first classes to open this year will be shorthand, bookkeeping, typewriting and commercial arithmetic. If you are interested in any of these courses will you please come in person to the City School, telephone or send in your name by mail between now and November 6? We have added two new typewriters to the Commercial Department and at present we have twelve machines.

We shall make a great effort to take care of all evening students who want to take these courses this winter. If you live in Paris these courses are free and if you live outside of the city the charges are reasonable.

There never has been such a demand for education and the Paris City Schools will offer this year a most liberal program of studies.

The announcement of the opening of other courses will be made within the next few days.

FOOTBALL, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 3 O'CLOCK

The baseball season is over. Paris had wonderful crowds at the baseball games during the entire summer, and now people's minds will naturally change to football for the next few weeks.

Paris High School has one of the best teams she has ever had. The boys have had a little bad luck in having some of their High School games cancelled and being forced to play two college freshmen games which they lost by small scores.

The first game of the season Paris won over Carlisle by a large score; the second game our team was beaten by the Georgetown College Freshmen 3 to 0; the third game we were beaten by State University Freshmen with a small score; the fourth game with several men sick with colds and with two on the crippled list, playing in Cynthiana, was lost by the small score of 3 to 0. The games have all been close and well played.

To-day when Paris Hi meets Flemingsburg High School on Hancock Field, you may expect one of the best games played here this season. They are making a special effort to have 500 football fans present. Will you be one? Remember the big home-coming day for Paris, Saturday, October 28, when we meet St. Xavier School, of Louisville. It is hoped to have 2,000 people at this game.

"HOD" ELLER "GETS HIS"

Horace (Hod) Eller, former pitching ace for the Reds, was attacked and badly beaten at Danville, Ill., when property owners in Vermillion Heights, a suburb, resented his striking the occupant of a burning house. Eller, returning from pitching in the Blue Grass League at Mt. Sterling, Ky., was appointed Friday as a fire fighter. The fire department seemed to be slow responding to an alarm. "I suppose you had to finish that crap game before you could get started," shouted an angry property owner. Eller struck him and then the fight began.

Paris fans will recall the turbulent disposition shown by the redoubtable Eller, in a game on the Paris grounds with the Mt. Sterling team when Eller advanced in a threatening manner toward Umpire Osborne, after having thrown the ball at him. Osborne was ready and would have done the scrapping Eller serious injury had not the police removed him from the field.
